Layne delivers a unique blend of insightful learning and captivating humour, leaving audiences craving more.

They openly speak to their life experiences; coming out, rebounding from multiple traumas, mental health and physical wellness, and they hilariously spill the tea about being the only gay in the village at a US auction school. Layne offers insights into building a powerhouse company from the ground up, and the inspirational (and tragic) moments they've experienced during their career of working over 1,500 events.

An advocate for social impact, Layne's work as The Auctionista has raised over $45 million for charity across North America. Their magnetism has had Prime Minister Justin Trudeau laughing in his seat and has made sharing a stage with greats like Sarah McLachlan and The Tragically Hip look effortless. Layne's undeniable stage presence and commitment to each and every cause has made them a force in the fundraising world.

Layne launched The IMPACT Workshop; a learning series targeted to organizations which is focused on helping participants understand the concepts of gender identity.

Now, the ever-innovative Layne, is one of the most coveted and respected auctioneers, speakers and workshop facilitators, with a sparkling reputation for personal storytelling that connects.
